I just did not need it.

Imperial Glass produced millions of items, many unattributed by collectors today. Imperial did it all - blowing, pressing, cutting, etching, and more. The first volume of this series is packed with information on Imperial's history, as well as photos featuring art glass, animal figurines, covered dishes, and all topics and patterns whose names begin with A, B, and C (through "Cane," including Candlewick). About 1,000 pieces are shown in color (including ad/catalog reprints), plus hundreds of other items in black and white.
