Shoreham and Wading River (Postcard History)

Jane Alcorn, Mary Ann Oberdorf : Shoreham and Wading River (Postcard History) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Shoreham and Wading River (Postcard History):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. of a place I thought I knew a great deal aboutBy Robert J. Caskiel grew up in Shoreham / Wading River and never knew it's history. This book mixes written history along with mind blowing photographs, of a place I thought I knew a great deal about, but in fact did not. Without doubt, I would recommend this book to anyone!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Wading River, settled by New Englanders in 1671, is reminiscent of a classic New England town with its steepled Congregational Church, village green, ancient cemetery, horse farms, and colonial homes. Shoreham, settled at the turn of the last century, went high-tech with the arrival of brilliant inventor Nikola Tesla and his famous tower and laboratory and highbrow as an eastern outpost of the Gold Coast. The two communities are linked by geography and shared traditions, such as a railroad line (sadly abandoned in 1938), a beautiful beach for summer fun, summer camps galore, an equestrian tradition, and glorious tennis--an unbroken rivalry since 1924. Shoreham and Wading River is an illustrated tale of two good neighbors vividly told through the magic of historic postcards from the Shoreham Village historical archives, the Wading River and Suffolk County Historical Societies, and private collections.

About the AuthorJane Alcorn is past president of the Wading River Historical Society and president of the Tesla Science Center at Wardencllyffe. Mary Ann Oberdorf is Shoreham Village historian and cochair of the Shoreham Village Centennial Committee.
