Excellent book on this amazing glass!By bettermousetrap antiquesThe Frosts really put heart and soul into this book! It is fantastic and worth every penny (and more!!) of the purchase price.

The photos are excellent, and the written text is incredibly valuable. The in-depth information on colour, shapes, forms, and cuttings is comprehensive and includes not only actual photos, but catalog pages and line drawings as well. I cannot give this book enough stars.

Fine glassware was hand produced at the Pairpoint Corporation in New Bedford, Massachusetts, by skilled glass blowers, cutters, and engravers for more than five decades and reached a level of unmatched elegance between 1918 and 1938. This is their story, in words and beautiful color pictures, sufficient that today's glass enthusiasts can identify the Pairpoint shapes, colors, and patterns and fully appreciate these artistic treasures. The distinctive Pairpoint bubble ball, specialty and regular line items, markings, and many identifying characteristics are all fully explained. Value guide included.

About the Author Marion and Sandra Frost have been serious researchers and collectors of Pairpoint art glass for more than ten years. They are the owner-operators of Dante's Pizza Fundraising in Baltimore, Maryland.
