I learned a lot about autism from the stories the author shared in this book.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Excellent Book!By Alan FriedmanLoved this book learned so much about Autism after 10 years! more proof that Autism is a man mad disease that we have only scratched the bottom of. Our kids are suffering from multi system failure. This book explains that very well.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Judith and her methods are amazing to meBy AKJudith and her methods are amazing to me. This book really covers not just autism but neuro differences and HANDLE methods to help.

Infused with rare insights into the impetus behind autistic behaviors, The Fabric of Autism weaves the various threads of autism into a "makes-sense" theory, hard won through personal experience and decades of study. From neuroscientific research, explanations of developmental processes and clinical outcomes emerge the probable causes of autism. This book is both a significant clinical work and a moving memoir that illuminates the humanity hidden beneath the bewildering facade of autism.

"Parents will find The Fabric of Autism particularly valuable, as it provides a range of options and insights." -- Professor Tony Attwood, Author of Asperger's Syndrome: A Guide for Parents and Professionals "Read The Fabric of Autism and be inspired!" -- Cindy Reuter, ND, LAc, RD, Naturopathic Physician, Licensed Acupuncturist, Registered Dietitian "The Fabric of Autism is engrossing, touching the nerve of everything taking place in our current cultural crisis of childhood." -- Joseph Chilton Pearce, Author of Magical Child, Evolution's End, and The Biology of Transcendence About the Author Judith Bluestone, who herself triumphed over the challenges of autism, understands the reality faced by individuals on the autism spectrum and by their families. From her work as an advocate, teacher, therapist and lecturer, she created the Holistic Approach to NeuroDevelopment and Learning Efficiency (HANDLE), and later founded the HANDLE Institute International, LLC in Seattle WA. In 2004, Bluestone received a national Jefferson Award and the prestigious Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Award for creating HANDLE and sharing it worldwide.
