Functional perfection...By HMS WarspiteThis Osprey Weapon Series Book has everything you may have ever wanted to know about the classic Roman short sword called the gladius, carried for centuries by soldiers of the Roman legions . Author M.C. Bishop brings in depth expertise to the discussion of the gladius, from its development to its use in battle to its effect on the history of the Roman Empire. He cleverly weaves together archeology, classical writings, and modern scholarship on the Roman Legions to deliver his narrative. That narrative is nicely supported by an excellent collection of ancient art and modern photographs and illustrations. Highly recommended to the keen student of the Roman way of war.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Add this to your library. If you do research ...By Ed S.Add this to your library. Williams This work well describes the Roman Short Sword, its evolution and use to become the world's leading individual weapon for over five centuries. In close combat, it had no equal.

One of the most feared weapons in the ancient world, the gladius was lethal both on the battlefield and in the arena. Literary sources tell of the terror it inspired, while archaeological evidence of wounds inflicted is testament to its deadly effect. By pulling together strands of literary, sculptural, and archaeological evidence, renowned expert M.C. Bishop creates a narrative of the gladius' development, exploring the way in which the shape of the short sword changed as soldiers and gladiators evolved their fighting style. Drawing together historical accounts, excavated artifacts, and the results of the latest scientific analyses of the blades, this volume reveals the development, technology, training and use of the gladius hispaniensis: the sword that conquered the Mediterranean.

"I found the section on Manufacture quite enlightening as M. C. Bishop utilizes scientific analysis of the blades to further understanding the evolution of the gladius." - IPMS/USA About the Author Writer, publisher, and archaeologist M.C.
